1 About this Qualification

This specification contains OCR's GCSE specification in Humanities for teaching from September 2009.

Key Features

- Incorporates many cross-curricular themes, such as economic and industrial understanding, the environment and sustainable development, health education, citizenship, and religious and moral issues.
- Can accommodate work done in PSHEE, vocational courses, work experience and careers education.
- Can be taught as a single coherent course in Humanities or the various sections may be taught in different areas of the school curriculum.
- Provides a framework for candidates to learn skills to assess the reliability of information and to conduct research.

Rationale

This specification provides a framework for the teaching and assessment of aspects of Humanities, including Citizenship, and of the religious and moral issues identified in locally agreed Religious Education specifications. It incorporates the cross-curricular themes of Economic and Industrial Understanding, Education for Sustainable Development (ESD) and Health Education.

The specification encourages candidates to follow a broad but coherent Humanities course at Key Stage 4 in which the temporal, spatial, socio-economic, moral and spiritual dimensions of the human condition are explored within local, national and global contexts. It also provides a framework within which candidates can learn the skills necessary to assess the reliability of information about the world around them, and to conduct their own research.

The specification provides a distinctive contribution to national provision as it offers a broader and more balanced approach to the study of Humanities than that provided by specifications with a more traditional Humanities approach. Although History, Geography and Religious Studies are drawn upon to set the context for Citizenship, Economic and Industrial Issues and Environmental Issues, this specification should not be used as a substitute for these subjects. History accounts for approximately 10% of the content, and Geography and Religious Studies each account for approximately 20%.

The specification supports statutory requirements for the study by all pupils of Citizenship in KS4. All sections of the Programme of Study for Key Stage 4 are included except for paragraph 3 b (negotiate, decide and take part in responsibly both school and community based activities). Citizenship is emphasised in the specification and accounts for 30% of the content. The specification also supports the statutory obligation for Centres to meet the requirements of locally agreed arrangements for Religious Education in KS4. Centres should check these locally agreed arrangements carefully in order to match them with the specification through their choice of examples or the addition of further content. In addition, the specification accommodates much of the work done in personal, social and vocational education programmes in schools, including work experience and careers education. Different sections of the specification content may be taught in different parts of the school curriculum or as part of a single coherent course in Humanities. If a flexible approach is adopted, some of the issues connected with ESD, for example, may be taught in the context of Geography or Science. The specification supports the development of skills within the Personal Learning and Thinking Skills framework, particularly the skills of independent enquiry.

The specification assists candidates in their spiritual, moral, social, ethical and cultural development and helps to prepare them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life.

OCR has taken great care in the preparation of this specification and assessment material to avoid bias of any kind.

1.1 GCSE (Full Course)

From September 2009 the GCSE is made up of 3 mandatory units. Units B031 and B032 are externally assessed, B033 is internally assessed controlled assessment.

1.2 Qualification Title and Levels

This qualification is shown on a certificate as:

- OCR GCSE in Humanities.

This qualification is approved by the regulatory authorities (QCA, DCELLS and CCEA) as part of the National Qualifications Framework.

Candidates who gain Grades D to G will have achieved an award at Foundation Level 1 (Level 1 of the National Qualifications Framework).

Candidates who gain Grades A* to C will have achieved an award at Intermediate Level 2 (Level 2 of the National Qualifications Framework).

1.3 Aims and learning outcomes

GCSE specifications in Humanities should encourage learners to be inspired, moved and changed by following a broad, coherent, satisfying and worthwhile course of study, and to gain an insight into related sectors. They should prepare learners to make informed decisions about further learning opportunities and career choices.

GCSE specifications in Humanities should encourage students to:

- actively engage in the process of Humanities to develop as effective and independent learners and as critical and reflective thinkers with enquiring minds
- develop an understanding which is coherent, holistic and extends beyond the remit of any single subject discipline
- develop an awareness of how people of different cultures and societies relate to each other and the world in which we live, now and in the past
- explore ways in which cultural, economic, environmental, historical, moral, political, religious, social, spatial, and spiritual factors interact to shape the world in which we live today
- consider the opportunities and constraints which influence human societies at a range of different levels
- examine issues which affect the nature and quality of human life, including an appreciation of diversity and similarities and differences of attitudes, values and beliefs in society
- develop enquiry, critical thinking and decision-making skills through personal and collaborative investigation of issues that are important, real and relevant to young people and to the world in which they live
- consider the rights and responsibilities they have as individuals and their own contribution to humanity.

1.4 Prior Learning/Attainment

Candidates entering this course should have achieved a general educational level equivalent to National Curriculum Level 3, or an Entry 3 at Entry Level within the National Qualifications Framework.

2 Summary of Content

- Undertake one independent enquiry drawn from the topic areas of B031
 - Select and evaluate evidence
 - Draw reasoned conclusions based on evidence
 - Present research findings coherently, understanding their limitations

3 Content

3.1 Unit B031: Cross Curricular Themes

Assessment of this unit is focussed on AO1 (Recall, select and communicate their knowledge and understanding of concepts, issues and terminology)

Issues of Citizenship

Candidates should have a knowledge and understanding of the importance of social justice and of protecting human rights with an appreciation of the consequences of the denial of rights and freedoms. They should be able to identify different forms of political organisation at a societal level and understand why some limit democracy. They should have an appreciation of the difference between criminal and civil law coupled with a basic understanding of how law and the criminal justice system works in the United Kingdom. Candidates should develop an outline historical understanding of the development of democracy in the United Kingdom. Candidates should also have an understanding of the complex nature of communities within the United Kingdom, their multiple identities and the impact on community cohesion.

Religious and Moral Issues

Candidates should have an understanding of the nature of religious belief and its significance for the lives of individuals. Following QCA, and SACRE guidelines, they should explore fundamental questions of meaning from the perspective of Christianity and one other principal world religion; however assessment will focus broadly on the issues and concepts, and will not refer to specific named religions. Candidates, in their answers, should refer to the religions they have studied. They should understand how religious beliefs can affect people's values and their attitudes to moral issues. Candidates should develop the skills of analysis, reflection and enquiry as well as the sensitivity to consider other people's beliefs, traditions and points of view.

This section of the specification should include material from Christianity and from one of Buddhism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, and Sikhism. Students should be given opportunities throughout this section to analyse, interpret, and evaluate different viewpoints, arguments and evidence put forward by religious and non - religious sources, and be able to come to an informed, rational, and imaginative personal choice.

The Key Concepts and Terms specified usually apply to all principal religions. However, teachers will appreciate the difficulty of listing concepts appropriate to every religion specified by local SACREs, and should select their own concepts, as appropriate, when preparing this section of the specification.

3.2 Unit B032: Application of Knowledge

Candidates should be able to use, analyse and interpret a range of evidence from Humanities relating to the content of unit B031. The assessment of this Unit is strongly focussed on AO2 (Apply their knowledge and understanding in familiar and unfamiliar contexts.) The evidence for candidates to use will be drawn from the areas of content in unit B031. They should:

- be able to apply their knowledge and understanding to content derived from unit B031
- know about the sources of evidence for social research
- understand the types of evidence found within Humanities and evaluate it in relation to its reliability and validity.
- be familiar with different research methods and their practical application to Humanities issues
- be confident in presenting information coherently and be able to evaluate their research.

3.2.1 Different Types and Forms of Evidence

Key Concepts and Terms

- Primary and secondary sources;
 - official statistics;
 - quantitative and qualitative methods of enquiry.

Content

Knowledge and use of the different types and forms of evidence available in social research. These should include:

- Official statistics and records;
 - visual sources such as paintings, cartoons and photographs;
 - personal documents such as letters, diaries and autobiographies;
 - media information such as news reports, magazine articles and advertisements.

Knowledge and use of methods of collecting primary data and knowledge of associated problems. The methods should include:

- Experiments;
 - questionnaires;
 - structured interviews;
 - in-depth interviews;
 - observation and participant observation.

3.2.2 Using and Evaluating Evidence

Key Concepts and Terms

- Reliability;
- validity;
- significance;
- triangulation;
- sampling;
- trend.

Content

- Knowledge, understanding and use of ways to interpret evidence; judge its reliability, validity and significance in relation to particular enquiries;
- the use of different types of sampling and their operation;
- the identification and use of patterns, trends and significance in data;
- knowledge and use of the terminology used to present and evaluate evidence in a clear and convincing manner.

3.2.3 Managing an Enquiry

Key Concepts and Terms

- Hypothesis;
- indicator;
- pilot study;
- sampling;
- control;
- variable.

Content

- Knowledge, understanding and use of the process of conducting social research including:
- Forming a hypothesis;
 - deciding an appropriate strategy;
 - determining appropriate indicators or questions;
 - sampling and pilot studies;
 - controlling variables;
 - analysing and interpreting data;
 - presenting findings with evidence using appropriate techniques and terminology;
 - evaluating the strategy.

3.2.4 Communicating the Results of an Enquiry

Key Concepts and Terms

- Introduction;
- conclusion;
- evaluation;
- narrative;
- evidence;
- annotation;
- statistical diagram;
- referencing;
- bibliography;
- audience.

Content	Knowledge and understanding of the ways information can be communicated in an enquiry report using text, numbers and images: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The purpose, form and use of an introduction, conclusion, evaluation and bibliography;• the function, characteristics and use of evidential writing including the use of quotation and referencing;• the use of annotation in relation to maps, photographs and diagrams;• the selection and use of statistical diagrams for different purposes, for example, histograms;• the comparison of totals, including pie charts to assist an understanding of proportions;• the use of charts and tables to display numerical information;• the importance of assessing and responding to the needs of different audiences.

DRAFT

3.3 Unit B033: Humanities Independent Enquiry

Candidates undertake an enquiry into, for example, local environmental issues, attitudes towards moral and social dilemmas, enterprise issues, the world of work, the importance of religious perspectives and geographical or historically based enquiries.

Enquiries should be based on a collection of sources or interpretations and target candidates' ability to recognise the significance of a particular enquiry methodology, be aware of its strengths and weaknesses and have a detailed understanding of how to best communicate their findings. The key is the strict application of methodology, as this relates to sources of evidence found within the Humanities.

OCR provides a range of approved enquiry questions derived from the content of unit B031. The teacher selects an enquiry topic from a narrow range of highly specific options. All candidates must select from the choices provided, possibly with individuals/groups investigating particular aspects. Candidates will have a limited choice of topics that are likely to motivate them.

Candidates develop the methodological skills necessary in an investigative enquiry, in particular the evaluation of the validity of the enquiry process and the problems associated with the derivation and substantiation of conclusions from evidence.

The enquiry should take the form of a written report. This may include material submitted in a variety of media. See Appendix C for approved formats for electronic submission.

The word limit is about 2000 words.

4.2 Entry Options

GCSE candidates must be entered for all 3 units.

Candidates must be entered for certification to claim their overall GCSE qualification grade. All candidates should be entered under the following certification code:

OCR GCSE in Humanities – J445.

4.3 Tiers

This scheme of assessment is untiered, covering all of the ability range grades from A* to G. Candidates achieving less than the minimum mark for Grade G will be ungraded.

4.4 Assessment Availability

There is one examination series each year in June.

In 2011 onwards, all units will be assessed.

4.5 Assessment Objectives

Candidates are expected to demonstrate the following in the context of the content described:

AO1 Demonstrate Knowledge and Understanding

- Recall, select and communicate their knowledge and understanding of concepts, issues and terminology

AO2 Analysis, Evaluation and Application

- Apply their knowledge and understanding in familiar and unfamiliar contexts

AO3 Communication and Presentation

- Analyse and evaluate information, sources, arguments and interpretations

AO weightings – GCSE

The relationship between the components and the assessment objectives of the scheme of assessment is shown in the following grid.

Unit	% of GCSE			Total
	AO1	AO2	AO3
Unit B031: Cross Curricular Themes	45	5	0	50%
Unit B032: Application of Knowledge	5	20	0	25%
Unit B033: Humanities Independent Enquiry	0	5	20	25%
	50%	30%	20%	100%

4.6 Quality of Written Communication

Quality of written communication is assessed as part of Assessment Objective 3(c). There are ten marks for this objective within the internal assessment. Candidates will be expected to conduct an enquiry that records findings in a coherent and purposeful form using relevant information from the evidence that has been collected. Candidates are expected to write reasoned and valid conclusions that refer to specific evidence in a convincing and evaluative way.

Credit is also given for the quality of written communication within Papers 1 and 2 as part of the assessment of Objectives 1 and 2. Examiners will focus particularly on the skills demonstrated by candidates in reaching and communicating reasoned conclusions (AO2) and in demonstrating their knowledge and understanding of the specification content (AO1).

Candidates are expected to:

- ensure that text is legible and that spelling, punctuation and grammar are accurate so that meaning is clear;
- present information in a form that suits its purpose;
- use a suitable structure and style of writing.

5 Controlled Assessment

5.1 The controlled assessment unit

Unit B033 has been designed to be internally assessed, applying the principles of controlled assessment. Controls are set within the assessment so that validity and reliability are ensured and the assessors can confidently authenticate the candidates' work. These controls take a variety of forms in each of the stages of the assessment process: task setting, task taking and task marking. Within each of these three stages there are different levels of control. This section sets out the overall OCR approach, but Section 3.3 on Controlled Assessment includes more detail and any specific requirements.

5.2 Task setting

5.2.1 The OCR approach

OCR will assume a high level of control in relation to the setting of tasks. A number of controlled assessment tasks will be available from OCR for the controlled assessment unit. These tasks have been designed to meet the full assessment requirements of the unit. Candidates will need to take part in a planned learning programme that covers the underpinning knowledge and skills of the unit in addition to completing the evidence requirements of the designated assessment task.

5.2.2 Using controlled assessment tasks

Centres can choose one from a number of comparable tasks offered by OCR and drawn from the content areas of unit B031. These tasks can be contextualised so that they allow the usage of local resources available to any centre. These tasks may also be set within overarching scenarios and briefs specifically relevant to the centre's own environment and targeted at their particular cohorts of candidates.

Controlled assessment tasks must be contextualised by centres in ways which will not put at risk the opportunity for candidates to meet the Assessment Criteria, including the chance to gain marks at the highest level.

The same OCR controlled assessment task must NOT be used as practice material and then as the actual live assessment material. Centres should devise their own practice material using the OCR specimen controlled assessment task as guidance, if they wish to do so. The task will be changed each year. A previous year's task may NOT be re-submitted in the following year.

5.3 Task taking

5.3.1 The OCR approach

For GCSE in Humanities OCR will assume a limited level of control for research/data collection and a high level of control for analysis and evaluation of findings. The task taking parameters will be defined for several key controls as outlined below.

5.3.2 Definitions of the controls

(a) Authenticity control: Candidates will complete all work for assessment under direct teacher supervision except as outlined below. For GCSE in Humanities most, but not all, work for assessment would be under direct teacher supervision; for example, it is acceptable for some aspects of exploration to be outside the direct supervision of the teacher, but the teacher must be able to authenticate the work. There must be acknowledgement and referencing of any sources used.

(b) Feedback control: Feedback to candidates will be encouraged but tightly defined. Within GCSE in Humanities OCR expects teachers to supervise and guide candidates who are undertaking work which is internally assessed. The degree of teacher guidance in candidates' work will vary according to the kinds of work being undertaken. It should be remembered, however, that candidates are required to reach their own judgements and conclusions. When supervising tasks, teachers are expected to:

- Exercise continuing supervision of work in order to monitor progress and to prevent plagiarism;
- Exercise continuing supervision of practical work to ensure essential compliance with Health and Safety requirements;
- Ensure that the work is completed in accordance with the specification requirements and can be assessed in accordance with the specified marking criteria and procedures.

Teachers must not provide templates, model answers or written feedback on drafts.

(c) Word Control: About 2000 words. Tasks will be set within a broader learning programme which will allow the acquisition of subject specific knowledge and the development of appropriate practical skills.

Some of the work, by its very nature, may be undertaken outside the centre, e.g. research work, fieldwork, etc. Work outside direct supervision of the teacher might include, for example, in the library or homework club but NOT at home. Using or applying this material will be undertaken under direct teacher supervision. With all internally assessed work, the teacher must be satisfied that the work submitted for assessment is the candidate's own work and be able to authenticate it using the specified procedure.

(d) Collaboration control: In the research stage, the work of individual candidates may be informed by working with others. In task production candidates must complete and/or evidence all work individually.

(e) Resource control: Access to resources will be limited to those appropriate to the task and as required by the unit. Candidates will need to be provided with the most appropriate materials and equipment to allow them full access to the marking criteria. This is the responsibility of the centre, in line with any guidance from OCR.

5.3.3 Quality assuring the controls

It is the responsibility of the Head of Centre to ensure that the controls set out in the specification and the individual units are imposed.

5.3.4 Completing the tasks

Candidates should be allowed sufficient time to complete the tasks. It is suggested that evidence is produced in several sessions, each focussing on a specific step within the overall task or scenario. These may be interspersed with opportunities to learn relevant knowledge and develop appropriate practical skills

Candidates must be guided on the use of information from other sources to ensure that confidentiality and intellectual property rights are maintained at all times. It is essential that any material directly used from a source is appropriately and rigorously referenced.

5.3.5 Presentation of work

Candidates must observe certain procedures in the production of controlled assessments.

- Tables, graphs and spreadsheets may be produced using appropriate ICT. These should be inserted into the report at the appropriate place.
- Any copied material must be suitably acknowledged.
- Quotations must be clearly marked and a reference provided wherever possible.
- Work submitted for moderation or marking must be marked with the:

centre number;
centre name;
candidate number;
candidate name;
specification code and title;
assignment title.

Work submitted on paper for moderation or marking must be secured by treasury tags. Work submitted in digital format (CD or online) must be in a suitable file structure with each file clearly named with the unit code, centre number and candidate number. (NB: there is currently no guidance on HOW centres will submit work into the OCR repository; it's likely that this will need to go in a separate document.)

5.4 Task marking

5.4.1 The OCR approach

For GCSE in Humanities OCR will assume a medium level of control in relation to the marking of tasks. All controlled assessed units will be marked by the centre assessor(s) using awarding body marking grids and guidance and moderated by the OCR appointed moderator. For this GCSE in Humanities external moderation will take the form of postal moderation or e-moderation where evidence in a digital format is supplied.

5.4.2 Applying the assessment criteria

The starting point for marking the tasks is the Marking Grids. These contain levels of criteria for the skills, knowledge and understanding that the candidate is required to demonstrate. Before the start of the course, and for use at INSET training events, OCR will provide exemplification through real or simulated candidate work which will help to clarify the level of achievement the assessors should be looking for when awarding marks.

5.4.3 Use of 'best fit' approach to marking grids

The assessment task(s) for each unit should be marked by the teacher according to the given marking criteria within the relevant unit using a 'best fit' approach. For each of the assessment objectives/criteria, one of the five band descriptors provided in the marking grid that most closely describes the quality of the work being marked should be selected.

Marking should be positive, rewarding achievement rather than penalising failure or omissions. The award of marks must be directly related to the marking criteria.

Teachers use their professional judgement in selecting the band descriptor that best describes the work of the candidate.

To select the most appropriate mark within the band descriptor, teachers should use the following guidance:

- Where the candidate's work convincingly meets the statement, the highest mark should be awarded;
- Where the candidate's work adequately meets the statement, the most appropriate mark in the middle range should be awarded;
- Where the candidate's work just meets the statement, the lowest mark should be awarded.

Centres should use the full range of marks available to them; centres must award full marks in any band for work which fully meets that descriptor. This is work which is 'the best one could expect from candidates working at that level'. Where there are only two marks within a band the choice will be between work which, in most respects, meets the statement and work which just meets the statement. For wider mark bands the marks on either side of the middle mark(s) for adequately met' should be used where the standard is lower or higher than 'adequate' but not the highest or lowest mark in the band.

Only one mark per assessment objective/criteria will be entered. The final mark for the candidate for the controlled assessment unit is out of a total of 50 and is found by totalling the marks for each of the marking objective/criteria strands.

5.4.4 Authentication

Teachers/course tutors must be confident that the work they mark is the candidate's own. This does not mean that a candidate must be supervised throughout the completion of all work but the teacher/course tutor must exercise sufficient supervision, or introduce sufficient checks, to be in a position to judge the authenticity of the candidate's work.

Wherever possible, the teacher/course tutor should discuss work-in-progress with candidates. This will not only ensure that work is underway in a planned and timely manner but will also provide opportunities for assessors to check authenticity of the work and provide general feedback.

Candidates must not plagiarise. Plagiarism is the submission of another's work as one's own and/or failure to acknowledge the source correctly. Plagiarism is considered to be malpractice and could lead to the candidate being disqualified. Plagiarism sometimes occurs innocently when candidates are unaware of the need to reference or acknowledge their sources. It is therefore important that centres ensure that candidates understand that the work they submit must be their own and that they understand the meaning of plagiarism and what penalties may be applied. Candidates may refer to research, quotations or evidence but they must list their sources. The rewards from acknowledging sources, and the credit they will gain from doing so, should be emphasised to candidates as well as the potential risks of failing to acknowledge such material. Candidates may be asked to sign a declaration to this effect. Centres should reinforce this message to ensure candidates understand what is expected of them.

Please note: Centres must confirm to OCR that the evidence produced by candidates is authentic. The Centre Authentication Form includes a declaration for assessors to sign.

5.4.5 Internal standardisation

It is important that all internal assessors, working in the same subject area, work to common standards. Centres must ensure that the internal standardisation of marks across assessors and teaching groups takes place using an appropriate procedure.

This can be done in a number of ways. In the first year, reference material and OCR training meetings will provide a basis for Centres' own standardisation. In subsequent years, this, or Centres' own archive material, may be used. Centres are advised to hold preliminary meetings of staff involved to compare standards through cross-marking a small sample of work. After most marking has been completed, a further meeting at which work is exchanged and discussed will enable final adjustments to be made.

5.4.6 Moderation

All work for controlled assessment is marked by the teacher and internally standardised by the centre. Marks are then submitted to OCR, after which moderation takes place in accordance with OCR procedures: refer to the OCR website for submission dates of the marks to OCR. The purpose of moderation is to ensure that the standard of the award of marks for work is the same for each centre and that each teacher has applied the standards appropriately across the range of candidates within the centre.

The sample of work which is presented to the Moderator for moderation must show how the marks have been awarded in relation to the marking criteria defined in Appendix B.

Each candidate's work should have a cover sheet attached to it with a summary of the marks awarded for the task. If the work is to be submitted in digital format this cover sheet should also be submitted electronically within each candidate's files.

5.5 Minimum Requirements for Controlled Assessment

There should be clear evidence that work has been attempted and some work produced.

If a candidate submits no work for an internally assessed component, then the candidate should be indicated as being absent from that component on the mark sheets submitted to OCR. If a candidate completes any work at all for an internally assessed component, then the work should be assessed according to the internal assessment objectives and marking instructions and the appropriate mark awarded, which may be zero.

6 Technical Information

6.1 Making Unit Entries

Please note that centres must be registered with OCR in order to make any entries, including estimated entries. It is recommended that centres apply to OCR to become a registered centre well in advance of making their first entries. Centres must have made an entry for a unit in order for OCR to supply the appropriate forms and/or moderator details for controlled assessments.

It is essential that unit entry codes are quoted in all correspondence with OCR. See Section 4.1 for unit entry codes.

Unit code	Component code	Submission method	Unit titles
Unit B033	01	Postal moderation	Humanities Independent Enquiry: Controlled Assessment
	02	OCR-repository

6.2 Terminal Rules

Candidates must take at least 40% of the assessment in the same series they enter for the full course qualification certification.

The 40% Terminal rule for GCSE Humanities means the following combination of units have to be taken at the end of the 2 year GCSE course:

Either:

Unit B031 (50%) + Unit B032 (25%)

Or

Unit B031 (25%) + Unit B033 (50%)

Or

Unit B032 (25%) + Unit B033 (25%)

Or

Unit B031 (50%)

Or

All 3 units

6.3 Unit and Qualification Re-sits

Candidates may re-sit each unit once before entering for certification for a GCSE.

Candidates may enter for the qualifications an unlimited number of times.

6.4 Making Qualification Entries

Candidates must enter for qualification certification separately from unit assessment(s). If a certification entry is not made, no overall grade can be awarded.

Candidates may enter for:

- GCSE certification J445.

A candidate who has completed all the units required for the qualification must enter for certification in the same examination series in which the terminal rules are satisfied.

GCSE certification is available from June 2011.

6.5 Grading

GCSE results are awarded on the scale A*-G. Units are awarded a* to g. Grades are awarded on certificates. However, results for candidates who fail to achieve the minimum grade (G or g) will be recorded as unclassified (U or u) and this is not certificated.

GCSE are unitised schemes. Candidates can take units across several different series provided the terminal rules are satisfied. They can also re-sit units or choose from optional units available. When working out candidates' overall grades OCR needs to be able to compare performance on the same unit in different series when different grade boundaries have been set, and between different units. OCR uses a Uniform Mark Scale to enable this to be done.

A candidate's uniform mark for each unit is calculated from the candidate's raw marks on that unit. The raw mark boundary marks are converted to the equivalent uniform mark boundary. Marks between grade boundaries are converted on a pro rata basis.

When unit results are issued, the candidate's unit grade and uniform mark are given. The uniform mark is shown out of the maximum uniform mark for the unit e.g. 40/50.

The specification is graded on a Uniform Mark Scale. The uniform mark thresholds for each of the assessments are shown below:

(GCSE) Unit Weighting	Maximum Unit Uniform Mark	Unit Grade								u
		a*	a	b	c	d	e	f	g
50%	100	90	80	70	60	50	40	30	20	0
25%	50	45	40	35	30	25	20	15	10	0

Candidate's uniform marks for each module are aggregated and grades for the specification are generated on the following scale.

Qualification	Qualification Grade									U
	Max UMS	A*	A	B	C	D	E	F	G
GCSE	200	180	160	140	120	100	80	60	40	0

Awarding Grades

The written papers will have a total weighting of 75% and controlled assessment a weighting of 25%.

A candidate's uniform mark for each paper will be combined with the uniform mark for the controlled assessment to give a total uniform mark for the specification. The candidate's grade will be determined by the total uniform mark.

6.6 Result Enquiries and Appeals

Under certain circumstances, a centre may wish to query the grade available to one or more candidates or to submit an appeal against an outcome of such an enquiry. Enquiries about unit results must be made immediately following the series in which the relevant unit was taken.

For procedures relating to enquires on results and appeals, centres should consult the Administrative Guide for General Qualifications and the document Enquiries about Results and Appeals – Information and Guidance for Centres produced by the Joint Council. Copies of the most recent editions of these papers can be obtained from OCR.

6.7 Shelf-Life of Units

Individual unit results, prior to certification of the qualification, have a shelf-life limited only by that of the qualification.

6.8 Guided Learning Hours

GCSE Humanities requires 120-140 guided learning hours in total.

6.9 Code of Practice/Subject Criteria/Common Criteria Requirements

These specifications comply in all respects with the current GCSE, GCE and AEA Code of Practice as available on the QCA website, The Statutory Regulation of External Qualifications 2004 and the subject criteria for GCSE Humanities.

6.10 Prohibited Qualifications and Classification Code

Candidates who enter for the OCR GCSE specifications may not also enter for any other GCSE specification with the certification title Humanities in the same examination series.

Every specification is assigned to a national classification code indicating the subject area to which it belongs.

The classification code for these specifications is 4510.

Centres should be aware that candidates who enter for more than one GCSE qualification with the same classification code will have only one grade (the highest) counted for the purpose of the School and College Achievement and Attainment Tables.

6.11 Disability Discrimination Act Information Relating to this Specification

GCSEs often require assessment of a broad range of competences. This is because they are general qualifications and, as such, prepare candidates for a wide range of occupations and higher level courses.

The revised GCSE qualifications and subject criteria were reviewed to identify whether any of the competences required by the subject presented a potential barrier to any disabled candidates. If this was the case, the situation was reviewed again to ensure that such competences were included only where essential to the subject. The findings of this process were discussed with disability groups and with disabled people.

Reasonable adjustments are made for disabled candidates in order to enable them to access the assessments and to demonstrate what they know and can do. For this reason, very few candidates will have a complete barrier to the assessment. Information on reasonable adjustments is found in

Candidates who are unable to access part of the assessment, even after exploring all possibilities through reasonable adjustments, may still be able to receive an award based on the parts of the assessment they have taken.

Candidates with a visual impairment may find this subject difficult to access fully.

6.12 Arrangements for Candidates with Particular Requirements

Candidates who are not disabled under the terms of the DDA may be eligible for access arrangements to enable them to demonstrate what they know and can do. Candidates who have been fully prepared for the assessment but who are ill at the time of the examination, or are too ill to take part of the assessment, may be eligible for special consideration. Centres should consult the Regulations and Guidance Relating to Candidates who are Eligible for Adjustments in Examinations produced by the Joint Council.

6.13 OCR repository

The OCR-repository allows centres to store controlled assessment electronically and to submit their moderation sample in electronic format.

The OCR GCSE Humanities unit B033 can be submitted electronically: please check Section 6.1 for unit entry codes for the OCR-repository.

More information on the OCR-repository can be found in Appendix C: Guidance for the Production of Electronic Assessment.

7 Other Specification Issues

7.1 Overlap with other Qualifications

There is some overlap between the content of this specification and that of specifications in Citizenship, History, Religious Studies, Geography, Sociology, Economics and the GCSE Business Suite. This is inevitable in any broad Humanities programme such as that devised in this specification.

7.2 Progression from these Qualifications

GCSE qualifications are general qualifications which enable candidates to progress either directly to employment, or to proceed to further qualifications.

Progression to further study from GCSE will depend upon the number and nature of the grades achieved. Broadly, candidates who are awarded mainly Grades D to G at GCSE could either strengthen their base through further study of qualifications at Level 1 within the National Qualifications Framework or could proceed to Level 2. Candidates who are awarded mainly Grades A* to C at GCSE would be well prepared for study at Level 3 within the National Qualifications Framework.

7.3 Spiritual, Moral, Ethical, Social, Legislative, Economic and Cultural Issues

These specifications offer opportunities which can contribute to an understanding of these issues in the following topics:

Issue	Opportunities for Developing an Understanding of the Issue during the Course
Spiritual Issues	Religious and Moral Issues Sections 3.1.13, 3.1.17
Moral Issues	Issues of Citizenship Section 3.1.1 Economic and Industrial Issues Sections 3.1.7, 3.1.10 Religious and Moral Issues Sections 3.1.15, 3.1.16, 3.1.17

	Issues of Health and Welfare Section 3.1.19
Ethical Issues	Issues of Citizenship Section 3.1.1 Environmental Issues Section 3.1.11, 3.1.12 Religious and Moral Issues Sections 3.1.15, 3.1.16, 3.1.17
Social Issues	Issues of Citizenship Sections 3.1.1, 3.1.2 Economic and Industrial Issues Sections 3.1.4, 3.1.5, 3.1.7 Environmental issues Sections 3.1.11, 3.1.12 Issues in Health and Welfare Sections 3.1.19, 3.1.21, 3.1.22
Legislative Issues	Issues of Citizenship Sections 3.1.2, 3.1.3
Economic Issues	Economic and Industrial Issues Sections 3.1.4, 3.1.10
Cultural Issues	Issues of Citizenship Section 3.1.1

7.4 Sustainable Development, Health and Safety Considerations and European Developments, consistent with international agreements

These specifications support these issues, consistent with current EU agreements, in the following topics:

The specification incorporates specific modules on Health and Welfare and on the Environment within its content. These modules encourage candidates to develop environmental responsibility based upon a sound understanding of the principle of sustainable development.

OCR has taken account of the 1988 Resolution of the Council of the European Community and the Report Environmental Responsibility: An Agenda for Further and Higher Education, 1993 in preparing this specification and associated specimen assessments.

European Examples can be used in the specification content in the following places:

3.1.1 Human rights (including European legislation).

3.1.1 Political rights and responsibilities.

3.1.4 The classification of economic activity.

3.1.11, 3.1.12 The environmental interdependence of communities and nations.

7.5 Avoidance of Bias

OCR has taken great care in preparation of these specifications and assessment materials to avoid bias of any kind.

7.6 Language

These specifications and associated assessment materials are in English only.

7.7 Key Skills

This specification provides opportunities for the development of the Key Skills of Communication, Application of Number, Information Technology, Working with Others, Improving Own Learning and Performance and Problem Solving at Levels 1 and/or 2. However, the extent to which this evidence fulfils the Key Skills criteria at these levels will be totally dependent on the style of teaching and learning adopted for each unit.

The following table indicates where opportunities may exist for at least some coverage of the various Key Skills criteria at Levels 1 and/or 2 for each unit.

Unit	C		AoN		IT		WwO		IoLP		PS
	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2
B031	✓	✓			✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
B032	✓	✓			✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
B033	✓	✓	✓		✓	✓			✓	✓	✓	✓

Detailed opportunities for generating Key Skills evidence through this specification are posted on the OCR website (www.ocr.org.uk). A summary document for Key Skills Coordinators showing ways in which opportunities for Key Skills arise within GCSE courses has been published.

7.8 ICT

In order to play a full part in modern society, candidates need to be confident and effective users of ICT. Where appropriate, candidates should be given opportunities to use ICT in order to further their study of Humanities.

The assessment of this course requires candidates to:

ICT Application/Development	Opportunities for using ICT during the course
Search and select information	Through the Internal Assessment Through researching case studies in all areas of knowledge
Present combined information	Through the Controlled Assessment.

7.9 Citizenship

Since September 2002, the National Curriculum for England at Key Stage 4 has included a mandatory programme of study for Citizenship. Parts of this Programme of Study may be delivered through an appropriate treatment of other subjects.

This section offers guidance on opportunities for developing knowledge, skills and understanding of citizenship issues during the course. These opportunities are also indicated within the content of:

Citizenship Programme of Study	Opportunities for teaching Citizenship Issues during the Course
The legal and human rights and responsibilities underpinning society and how they relate to citizens, including the role and operations of the criminal and civil justice systems.	Issues of Citizenship Sections 3.1.1, 3.1.2, 3.1.3
The work of Parliament, the Government and the courts in making and shaping the law.	Issues of Citizenship 3.1.2, 3.1.3
The importance of playing an active part in democratic and electoral processes.	Issues of Citizenship Section 3.1.2
How the economy functions, including the role of business and financial services.	Economic and Industrial Issues Sections 3.1.4, 3.1.9, 3.1.10

The opportunities for individuals and voluntary groups to bring about social change locally, nationally, in Europe and internationally	Issues of Citizenship Section 3.1.2 Environmental Issues Section 3.1.12, 3.1.11
The importance of a free press	Issues of Citizenship Section 3.1.2
The rights and responsibilities of consumers, employers and employees.	Economic and Industrial Issues Sections 3.1.5, 3.1.6, 3.1.7, 3.1.10
The United Kingdom's relations in Europe, including the European Union, and relations with the Commonwealth and United Nations	Issues of Citizenship Section 3.1.1 Environmental Issues Section 3.1.4
The wider issues and challenges of global interdependence and responsibility, including sustainable development and local Agenda 21.	Environmental Issues Sections 3.1.11, 3.1.12

Appendix A: Grade Descriptions

Grade descriptions are provided to give a general indication of the standards of achievement likely to have been shown by candidates awarded particular grades. The descriptions must be interpreted in relation to the content in the specification; they are not designed to define that content. The grade awarded will depend in practice upon the extent to which the candidate has met the assessment objectives overall. Shortcomings in some aspects of the assessment may be balanced by better performance in others.

The grade descriptors have been produced by the regulatory authorities in collaboration with the awarding bodies.

Grade A

Candidates recall, select and communicate detailed knowledge and thorough understanding of a range of features, characteristics and diversities of the societies studied. They understand the factors that impact on people and their societies, and the attitudes and values that shape human behaviour. They convey a perceptive understanding of the concepts and issues important to humanity. They understand and use terminology accurately.

They apply relevant knowledge and understanding of different concepts to familiar and unfamiliar contexts. They have a discriminating understanding of the complex relationships between individuals, individuals and groups, society and the environment, and of the consequences when relationships break down.

They summarise, organise and present information in an effective and coherent manner to identify patterns and trends. They construct effective arguments and make informed decisions. They examine issues and debates systematically and comment on the strengths and weaknesses of arguments. They analyse and evaluate the sources and methods of investigation used to arrive at substantiated conclusions.

Grade C

Candidates recall sound knowledge and understanding of the key features, characteristics and diversities of the societies studied. They identify and describe the factors that have impacted on people and societies, and the attitudes and values that shape human behaviour. They identify the concepts and issues important to humanity and provide reasons for these. They use terminology appropriately.

They apply knowledge and understanding of different concepts to familiar and unfamiliar contexts. They understand relationships between individuals, individuals and groups, society and the environment, and of the consequences when relationships break down.

They organise and present information in a structured manner, and identify obvious patterns and/or trends. They construct reasoned arguments. They identify issues and debates, and recognise the main strengths or weaknesses in the arguments. Their evaluation of sources and/or methods of investigation is generally appropriate.

Grade F

Candidates recall some relevant knowledge and understanding about human societies, the factors that have impacted on people and societies, and the attitudes and values that shape human behaviour. They demonstrate some basic understanding of terminology.

Candidates understand some key ideas and simple concepts from the specification content. They apply some basic knowledge and understanding in familiar and/or unfamiliar contexts. They understand simple relationships between individuals, individuals and groups, society and the environment, and some consequences when relationships break down.

They present information with limited organisation and identify simple patterns or trends. They identify simple connections between information to make generalisations. They show some awareness of the adequacy of the arguments and/or sources and/or methods of investigation used.

DRAFT

Appendix B: Marking Criteria for Controlled Assessments

	AO2 [10 marks]	AO3 [40 marks]
Marks	Reach reasoned conclusions based on a range of evidence AO2c	Apply appropriate research methodology AO3a	Locate, select and organise material relevant to the enquiry AO3b	Record and present findings in a coherent and purposeful form AO3c	Evaluate the research methodology employed in the enquiry AO3d
1-2	The candidate reaches a conclusion linked loosely to some information in the enquiry	The candidate submits some concrete ideas described in an easily understandable way.	The candidate locates some appropriate information.	The candidate presents some relevant information. Written work is clear enough to allow an understanding of the general focus of the enquiry.	The candidate describes the research methods adopted
3-4	The candidate reaches an acceptable conclusion that is linked to evidence.	The candidate's enquiry has an implicit research strategy underpinning it.	The candidate locates some relevant information from which selections are made.	The candidate uses some appropriate methods to present findings relevant to the research subject. Written communication is clear and uses simple conventions of grammar and punctuation.	The candidate describes the research methods accurately and identifies at least one problem with the methods chosen.
5-6	The candidate reaches an acceptable conclusion that draws on specific evidence.	The candidate's enquiry is well organised with an explicit and coherent research strategy.	The candidate locates selects and organises relevant information in a coherent way.	The candidate records and presents their findings clearly and accurately, using specific methods, showing an understanding of why some presentation methods are more appropriate than others. Written communication is clear with grammar and punctuation used with reasonable accuracy.	The candidate describes the research methodology fully and accurately giving reasons for their choice, mentioning some strengths and weaknesses.

Marks	Reach reasoned conclusions based on a range of evidence AO2c	Apply appropriate research methodology AO3a	Locate, select and organise material relevant to the enquiry AO3b	Record and present findings in a coherent and purposeful form AO3c	Evaluate the research methodology employed in the enquiry AO3d
7-8	The candidate reaches an acceptable and relevant conclusion that uses a selection from evidence within the enquiry to support it.	The candidate produces a well organised enquiry that is logical and coherent. It has an obvious research based structure. The content and commentary form a clear picture of what is being recounted.	The candidate locates and selects relevant information and shows an understanding of appropriate techniques for collecting different types of information.	The candidate records and presents their findings showing a well founded understanding of appropriate methods, applied in a clear, accurate and well ordered fashion, using technical language in context. Written communication is clear with mostly accurate grammar and punctuation.	The candidate describes the research methodology fully and accurately giving reasons for their choice. Strengths and weaknesses are discussed, with some suggestions of alternatives that could be used.
9-10	The candidate reaches an acceptable and relevant conclusion that is based on a thorough evaluation of the range of evidence presented in the enquiry.	The candidate's enquiry is detailed and coherent. An explicit methodology has been applied appropriately. Separate sections are related to the general direction of the enquiry.	The candidate shows a good understanding of the techniques used to collect different types of information. The selection of sources shows an awareness of the need for comparison.	The candidate records and presents their findings in a most appropriate way, paying attention to reader accessibility, with a close relationship to the subject of research and the evidence collected. The enquiry is organised in a coherent and effective manner, consistently applied throughout. Written communication is very clear and precise, using accurate grammar and punctuation.	The candidate describes and evaluates the research methodology employed, deficiencies are discussed, with suggestions for positive improvements or the use of alternative valid methodologies.

Appendix C: Guidance for the Production of Electronic Controlled Assessment

Structure for evidence

A Controlled Assessment portfolio is a collection of folders and files containing the candidate's evidence. Folders should be organised in a structured way so that the evidence can be accessed easily by a teacher or moderator. This structure is commonly known as a folder tree. It would be helpful if the location of particular evidence is made clear by naming each file and folder appropriately and by use of an index, called 'Home Page.'

There should be a top level folder detailing the candidate's centre number, candidate number, surname and forename, together with the unit code B033, so that the portfolio is clearly identified as the work of one candidate.

Each candidate produces an assignment for Controlled Assessment. The evidence should be contained within a separate folder within the portfolio. This folder may contain separate files.

Each candidate's Controlled Assessment portfolio should be stored in a secure area on the centre network. Prior to submitting the Controlled Assessment portfolio to OCR, the centre should add a folder to the folder tree containing Controlled Assessment and summary forms.

Data formats for evidence

In order to minimise software and hardware compatibility issues it will be necessary to save candidates' work using an appropriate file format. (Further information on this topic is provided in the separate OCR guidance on digital Controlled Assessment submissions).

Candidates must use formats appropriate to the evidence that they are providing and appropriate to viewing for assessment and moderation. Open file formats or proprietary formats for which a downloadable reader or player is available are acceptable. Where this is not available, the file format is not acceptable.

Electronic Controlled Assessment is designed to give candidates an opportunity to demonstrate what they know, understand and can do using current technology. Candidates do not gain marks for using more sophisticated formats or for using a range of formats. A candidate who chooses to use only word documents will not be disadvantaged by that choice.

Evidence submitted is likely to be in the form of word processed documents, PowerPoint presentations, digital photos and digital video.

To ensure compatibility, all files submitted must be in the formats listed below. Word processed documents or PowerPoint presentations must be converted to HTML or PDF formats before submission. OCR will not accept compressed (zipped) file formats. Where new formats become available that might be acceptable, OCR will provide further guidance.

It is the centre's responsibility to ensure that the electronic portfolios submitted for moderation are accessible to the moderator and fully represent the evidence available for each candidate.

Accepted File Formats

Movie formats for digital video evidence

MPEG (*.mpg)

QuickTime movie (*.mov)

Macromedia Shockwave (*.aam)

Macromedia Shockwave (*.dcr)
